THE NEW YORK TIDE TURNING TOWARD GOVERNOR HILL,

princeratic Confidence Greatly Increased—The Bloody Shirt Hurting the Republicans—Da-venport's Rural Majority to be Kept Down, and Hill's to be Augmented.

NEW York, November 2 .- [Special.] -The democratic confidence continues, and even grows stronger. It may be the mere heat of lection day, but it certainly looks like solid confidence. There is a general acknowledgment that the bloody shirt speeches have hurt the republican cause. The sober, second thought of the people of this commercial city revolts against the reopening of a sectional feeling that must disturb business relations, This reaction is now having its effect, the extent of which can only-be understood after tomorrow's ballots.

One notable phase of politics here is the precedence given to THE CITY TICKET over the state ticket. On the street one can hear little of Hill or Davenport, while everybody is talking of the local candidates.

The Sun of this morning, in a double headed editorial, claimed to have information that a well-known millionaire, meaning Mayor Grace, of course, was conspiring to trade Hill for the county democracy ticket, but the story is hardly credited in political circles. If there is no trading of this sort, Hill will be elected. Reports from the country indicate that Davenport's out-of-town majority will be kept down to last year's figures, while Hill is sure of a much better majority in New York and Brooklyn than Cleveland had, unless he is knifed at the last moment. TheStremendous turn of the tide in his fovor in the last day of two is one of the mysteries of politics which two is one of the injection.

"That it is my settled belief that the voters of the success ful political party, when honest and capabe, and possessing the confidence of their fellow citizen, deserve to have seats at the governmental table. In order that there may be no room for misunderstanding or disappointment, I desire to announce that that rule will govern me in making appointments to public office."

Ohio Becomes a November State. COLUMBUS, November 2.—The official vote on the constitutional amendment at the election held October 13th, was canvassed today. The total vote was 743,453. The amendment to abolish October elections was carried by an average of 537,000, and the amendment to change the terms of township officers from the tother years received 469,000 votes. The governor has issued a proclamation to this effect.

At Portsmouth, N. H., four vessels went sahore. Portland, Me, reports a seventy-mile gale. Provincetown, Mass., telegraphs that 150 vessels ran in there for harbor, and that collisions were numerous. The United States revenue cutter Gallatin did great service, hauling boats off shore, and placing others in good anchorage ground. New London says the storm was the severest in many years, and the schooner Adeliza was beached and broken to pieces. In Boston the storm was the severest of any that can be rememwas the severest of any that can be remembered. At Lewis's wharf, the large ship Magelden parted one of her chains, and moved twenty feet, being stopped by the hawsers when within ten feet of the pier. The schooner Carrie Easter parted her lines, and was driven by the wind rate an adjoining pier, carrying away her own davits, crushing her boats and at the same time breaking the spanker boom of the bark Addie Carver, and finally jamming between the bark E. L. Mayberry, and the Slip of South Forry. Here she lay pitching and rolling, and bally chaing the sides of the Mayberry. MONTRAL, November 2.—The customs officers have unearthed another commercial fraud upon the revenues of the geountry. Four or five leading wholesale liquor and wine firms are alleged to have been guilty of surreptiously withdrawing liquor from casks in bonded warehouses, and this for some years past. One firm, it is said, has swindled the government by this means out of duties amounting to $50,000, and the total amount of the swindle is $150,000. There is much excitement in business circles over the coming dusclosures, as the firms involved have always been looked the firms involved have always been looked upon as doing an honest, legitimate business.

Opposed to Incineration Opposed to Inclneration.

BUFFALO, N. Y., November 2.—The project for the incineration of dead bodies, which by the erection of a crematory, is soon to be tested in this lecality, is meeting with considerable opposition. Bishop Coxe preached at St. John's church last evening to a very large congregation on the subject of "Christian burial," giving his views in opposition to cremation. His text was St. John's dessertation of the burial of Christ. He claimed that incineration was repugnant to Christian civilization,

INTEREST IN THE ELECTIONS.

There has been no marked increase in the state of applications for leaves of applications for leaves of applications.

There has been no marked increase in the number of applications for leaves of absence to indicate that the clerks have gone home to vote. The oldest employes say there has never been a year within their memory when so few have gone home on election day. The greatest interest is taken in the contests in New York and Virginia, and the republican clerks have thought it prudent to remain at their desks, and as yet there are comparatively few democrats in the departments. The democrats having votes in Maryland, Virginia and New York have gone home, but there are many who have not. Tressurer Jordan and Assistant Secretary Fairchild are still here. Fairchild is paired with Coon, and some others, who could not get away, formed pairs. Appointment Clerk Higgins is in Baltimore.

New Longon, Conn., November 2.—A terriole calamity, by which six lives were lost cocurred in the race on Sunday night, caused by the explosion of the boiler of the steam dredge No. 4, of the Atlantic/dredging company, of Brooklyn, N. Y. The dredge has been employed on Providence river for four years, and in company with the water tank, left Providence for New York at 9:15 Sunday morning, in tow of the tug, C. C. Waite, Captain Tweedy. In order to keep the bilge clear, the steam pump on the dredge was kept at work. Just before midnight, when near Race Rock light, Captain Tweedy, who was at the stern of the tug, noticed a moving light on the dredge, and heard a voice, but could not distinguish the words. A minute later he heard a explosion on the dredge, and saw fire, smoke and steam. The dredge sank immediately, and the stern of the tug was drawn under water before the hawzers could be courred in the race on Sunday night, caused conclusions. The dredge sank immediately, and the stern of the tug was drawn under water before the hawzers could be cleared. The Waite was immediately put about, but no trace of the dredge, her crew or water tank could be found. After searching in the vicinity for half an hour, the tug headed for this harbor, arriving in the teeth of the easterly gale that prevailed. As soon as the storm subsided, the Waite spain went out to the race in the hope of finding even the dead bodies of the majoritumate men, who went down with the dredge, but inothing could be found not even a floating piece of the dredge. The tug returned to port this evening. The names of the men on the ill-fated vessel are not fully known. As far as can be learned they are: Captain, Robert Kent; mate, Strabs and his brother; the steward, of Providence, a deck hand known as "Sandy;" a fireman whose name could not be learned, and a Providence man who was working his passage to Brooklyn. When the dredge left Providence a large New Foundland dog was on board. Tonight two young men at Black Point, seven miles from here, saw the dog swim to shore and drop exhausted. THE BRITISH GRAIN TRADE. The Mark Lane Express Beviews the Sitna-

London, November 2.—The Mark Lane Exe press, in its review of the British grain trads during the past week, says: "The rainfall has seriously retarded wheat sowing. The conditition of most of the grain thus far merketed has been indifferent to bad, and it is difficult to effect sales. The sales of Euglish wheat during the week were 56,950 glish wheat during the week were 56,950 quarters at 31 shillings 4 ponce against 65,773 quarters at 32 and 3 during the corresponding week last year. Flour has been freely offered and prices are weaker. Sound oats are firm. The foreign wheat market is depressed and apparently in a hopeless condition. Prices are six pence lower. Two cargoes of wheat arrived, tour were sold, five withdrawn and three remain. The trade forward is neglected. Today wheat was insamimate at last Monday's prices, difficult to realize. Flour was in poor request and six pence lower. Corn was rather dearer. Beans were one shilling dearer. Peas were six pence cheaper.

The Striking Glasaworkers.

Sandwich, Mass., November 2.—The striking glassworkers did not return to work at the Boston and Sandwich glassworks today, as generally expected. The general manager, on his return from the west tomorrow, will be waited on by a committee from the local union. Fires are still allowed to burn, but the pots have not been filled. Orders are continually being received at the company's office, where they remain, and this fact gives the impression that a compromise will soon be effected, and work resumed.

Strike of Cotton Workers in Glasgow, GLASCOW, November 2.—The strike of the "picteers" has disorganized the trade. The weavers are thrown idle by the strike, 2,400 being out of employment. It is expected that other mills will close. The masters say that work does not pay at present; that they are compelled to reduce the wages of the work-men.

The Midland County; Miners to Strike, London, November 2.—The Yorkshire olliers have decided to strike if their demand for an advance of 15 per cent in wages is not granted. It is probable that the conference of miners, to be held at Manchester, on Wednesday, will result in a general strike in the Midland counties, which will effect between 175,000 and 200,000 colliers.

The Fmalipox in Montreal.

MONTRAL, Canada, November 2.—The re-turns at the health office today shows that there were thirty-three deaths from smallpox in this city yesterday.

The vaccination committee report that last week 5,187 houses were visited, and 1,139 persons vaccinated or re-vaccinated. There are fourteen cases of smallpox at Chateauguay basin; seven cases are in one house. The fourteen cases or summary to be sein; seven cases are in one house. The Protestant cemetery reports six burials there the rast week. The returns for the reports six burists table the present week. The returns for the month of October show a total number of deaths of 163. Of these 31 were Protestants. The Cotholies were divided as follows: city, 1,250; St. Jean Baptiste, 83; St. Conegonde, 101; Cato St. Lewis, 107; St. Henri, 46; St. Gabriel, approximate 12.

The board of harbor commissioners has in-

Smallpox in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., November 2.—The continual existence of smallpox in the city causes the health department and physicians grave slarm. The cases are isolated, but the medi cal suthorities agree that there is great dan-ger of the disease becoming epidemic during the winter. The health officers say they are doing their best, and that vaccination is going on every day, but at a rate that will require several years to insure the city against the Crops ta Liberty.

HINESVILLE, Ga., November 2 .- [Special]-The farmers have recently grown more hopeful than usual. The cotion crop, although lighter than it would have been, has turned out better than they anticipated soon after the storm. The bad weather has caused the cotton to grade the crop that was not harvested when the storm came has been very much injured. All the gins in our county are kept busy, and in a few weeks the entire crop of the county will have been

The rice crop has moved off to market slowly or account of the depression in prices, only a small part of the crop has been sold as yet. There was a much better crop of this article made than was supposed. The floods effected the large plantaon the rivers mainly, and the loss to inland rice was not large; hence there will be no scarcity of the commodity when it has been sold. Every season there is more rice being grown in the interior, that is away from the rivers, and usually there is less risk from excessive rains to these localities. The colored people are happy to find that their rice crops have not proven a fa ure, for it is a necessity with them, being a standard article of diet. The sweet potatoes have suffered very much from the floods. Thousands of bushels will be to-tally lost, I presume. In many localities they have rotted in the ground, and of course their loss will be felt by planters, as they are valuable for fattening hogs as well as many other uses. The pea crop has also been cut short, and many farmers have saved none at all. However, they don't feel very badly about their losses, inasmuch as they did not less their cotton and rice.

The public reads are still in bad order, as the damage to them from the rains was to extensive that a vast amount of work will be necessary to make them as they were formerly, but the hands are being summoned occasionally to work, and we hope to have the roads in good condition a

COLUMBUS CHRONICLES.

COLUMBUS, Ga., November 2.-[Special.]-Mr. K. W. Welford died at his home in this city last night at 9 o'clock, after an illness of only about three days, of pneumonia. He was fifty-two years o age and leaves a wife and two children. He leaves quite a number of relatives in Opelika.

Mr. A. W. Kennon, of Chattahoochee county, while eating supper Saturday night, got choked on a piece of beef, which lodged just above the entrance to the atomach. He could scarcely breathe and was unable to talk. He did every thing he knew of to relieve him-self, but failed and was compelled to come to this city for medical attention. He remained in this condition until 4 o'clock Sunday iternoon, when Dr. Terry succeed in removing the piece of beef. The Muscogee county Sunday school association held an interesting meeting at Mt. Zion church everal miles north of here. The next meeting will be held at Broad street Methodist church, in his city, on the first Sunday in February. The Central railroad compress at this city, has compressed over forty thousand bales of cotton since the 15th of September. The payroll for emover and incidental expenses amount to about $4,000 a month. Mr. J. D. Johnston, dealer in family supplies, a this city, has made an assignment to M. Kaugh man for the benefit of his creditors. His assets are about $1,20. The amount of liabilities is not known. In the ordinary's court today Mr. G. H. Fonaine was appointed administrator with will an-

The Annexation of DeSoto. Fome, Ga., November 2.—[Special.]—The question of annexing DeSoto is just now the all aborbing topic in Rome. DeSoto has already voted n favor of annexation by an overwhelming ma prity, and it now remains for Rome to decide the question. By spnexation Rome's population would be increased at least one thousand, togethr with a considerable addition of territory. The bill under which the election is held provides that Desoto shall have a rebate for ten years of one third of the taxes levied except the school tax, and this is the principal argument of the opponents of annexation. They claim that DeSoto should come in on equal terms. What the result of the election will be no one can tell. The municipal contest is growing in interest. Already two tickets are announced. Mr. S.iM Knox and Mr. M. M. Pepper are in the field for major, while the following gentlemen have en tered the aldermanic lists: S. S. King, W. H. Wardlaw, W. T. Smith, J. T. Vandiver. The list of registered voters promises to be very large.

M. M. Folsom writes about Buena Vista thus:

- Perched upon the summit of a hill, two hundred feet higher than Americus, this old-time town, with the good sweep of scenery surrounding it, its quaint old-fashioned bouses, and the little cluster of choice, old-time spirits that make up its citizenship, all taken together make an interesting study. The writer spent several days there, most of the time confined to a sick-most, of the time confined to a sick-most, and he desires to express his most sincere thanks for the kind treatment received. Especially is he indebted to Dr. F. L. Wisdom, one of the most skilful and humsae physicians in southwest Georgia, and to Mr. Sam Williams, proprietor of the Commercial hotel. Mr. Williams spared no pains nor expense to make my sojourn as pleasant as possible. Buena Vista is about thirty seven years old. The land that the town stands upon was donated by Mr. Burkhalter, father of our fellow-towns may, and the lots were sold off in 1848. Previous to that time Marion county had for county sites. Harry, on Cedar creek, then Tazewell, on Buck creek, where it remained for many years. The central hill, on which stands the red courthouse, was a commanding eminence and Mr. Burkhalter reserved its for a residence but finally. M. M. Folsom writes about Buena Vista thus:

Buck creek, where it remained for many years. The central hill, on which stands the red court-bouse, was a commanding eminence and Mr. Bulkhaliter reservoit for a residence, but finally sold it to the county. From the courthouse steps one may look away to the westward a distance of furteen miles and see the mist-covered creats of the blue hills of Chattahoochee, and toward the northwest the pine covered ridges of Busougee foil away in onlowy undulations. Northward, for six miles, lie the fertile knobs and valleys of the head waters of uchee and Buck creeks. In this region is Redbone, now Brantly, which was quite a notorious muster ground in ye olden time. Beyond this section lies the pine desert, stretching across the country from northeast to southwest, traversing in its entirety three or four states, and being from ten to fifteen miles in breadth. People are beginning to find out that there are some fine lands in this geeming desert, and it is beginning to be settled up by small farmers. The water that runs from the courthouse in Banaa Vista helps to feed the Uchee on the north. Muckalee on the south, Crooked creekand Kincha-foonee on the west, and another small creek on the cast onee on the west, and another small creek on the ast. It seems to be a kind of dividing ridge, or out of headquarters for the sources of the various reams that water the country between the Film of Chattahoochee. When the county site was first and Chattahoochee. When the county site was first located here it was called Taylor for General Zackary, of Mexican war fame; but when the first court met, the lawyers got to discussing the name and as the battle of Buena Vista was first in the minds of the people some open versions.

and as the battle of Buena Vista was first in the minds of the people some one proposed that name for the new county site, and it was enthusiastically adopted. I have been struck with the appropriateness of the name, as I gazed at the "beautiful views" amid its surroundings. This court was held in little old church that is still standing, having been moved up on the square by the negroes who still use it for a church. I see no reason why Buena Vista should not grow and thrive, surrounded as it is by such a fertile region, peopled with a race of farmers as industrious as can be found anywhere upon the earth. And the men who have the interests of the town in hand seem to be chuck full of zeal and energy, and they will boom to the full of zeal and energy, and they will boom to the full extent of their ability.

The subject of the improvement of the harbors on the South Atlantic cost has attracted attention and is exciting much interest. The general government, under the power to provide for the general welfare, has given consideration to the improvement of the harbors as a subject demanding its care, and has done much in this respect by ap propriations of money from time to time-yet much remains to be done. The increasing de nands of foreign as well as domestic commerce, in which the vast interests of a large section of our continually growing country are concerned, make it harbors of the South Atlantic coast, the gate ways, so to speak, through which the imports and exports of the south and west must come and go, hould be made the object of prime concern with the government, that the work of their improves ment may be assured by adequate and timely ap propriations and judicious expenditures. The dangers and difficulties of navigation add much to the cost of transportation, and thus add a tax on commodities which falls on both producer and consumer, necessarily detracting from the wealth of the country. The removal of these dangers cheapens freight, facilitates commerce, dangers cheapens [freight, facilitates commerce, and adds to material wealth. Feeling the force of these suggestions; knowing that a vast portion of the south and west are concerned in the subject, and believing that a free and full conference will result in formulating the public sentiment into some expression that will present the subject to the country and to consideration its importance deserves, the citizens of Savannah in a public meeting assembled resolved that a harbor improvement convention be called to meet in the city of Savannah on the 25th day of November, for the purpose of taking such action as may seem best to push forward the work of improving the harbors of the South Atlantic coast.

WHAT COLOBED FOLKS BELIEVE. Great Excitement Near Elijay About the Alleged Doings of an Allege

From the Charleston, S. C., News and Courier. ELIJAY, Ga., November 1 .- A silly story of ELIJAY, Ga., November 1.—A silly story of witchery comes from a suburban county to the following effect: An old negro woman who has been gaining a livelihood digging herbs in the mountains, asked for bread of a negro woman named Clements, who lives alone with her children. The Clements woman refused to give the beggar anything to eat, whereupon the root digger pronounced a curse upon the house and inmates. She returned a few hours later and told the Clements woman to prepare to die as she would not live until few hours later and told the Clements woman to prepare to die as she would not live until morning. The Clements woman started to pick up a stone to throw at the beggar, when she was seized with terrible pains in the back and side. She crawled to the house, where she died in convulsions. Poison was suspected, but a medical examination failed to reveal the existence of any poison, either vegetable or mineral. The Clements woman had three mineral. The Clements woman had three children, all of whom are now ill, and, it is thought, may die. Over the door of the negro cabin was found a conjure ball, consisting of red regs, hairs from a black dog's tail and crooked pins.

The negroes in the vicinity believe the story, and are confident that the woman was newitched, and threaten the life of the old root discover who defice them all.

HEARD IN HER YOUTH. YD'S EXTRACT BLUE SHIN THIRTY-FIVE YEARS How the Fionest Settlers Lived, Moved and Had Their Fun-A Few of the Prominent Men Liv-their and Shift Active-Dave Grimes the Ring of Western Reard County.

From the Franklin, Ga , News. The writer, while thinking back over the space of thirty-five years, was impressed with the changes that has taken place during that time in western Heard county. Of the prom-inent men who controlled its affairs at that date how few are living and still active! In looking around we find few, very few, most of them having crossed over the river and now rest with the silent dead. It was the writer's first visit to that section of the county familiarly known as Blue Shin, which was then almost a wilderness from Texas to the Carroll line, with but few settlers, and they were generally fond of the gun and fawn. We well recollect that eventful trip-how we prepared, how we dres med for a week beforehand of deer and turkey that were to fall under our aim. But the morning at last came, and in company with that old huntsman, Samuel Ried, for guide, we left home for the hunting ground. After passing Texas, how lo nely it looked as we journeyed on until evening, when i commenced raining. We reached the camp ing place, all wet, of course.

party there, as we expected, no tent and no place to sleep—out in the wild woods pear where Uncle Billy Davis lived and died—how it began to rub out the enthusiasm in beginners! But it would not do to holler now. We must show out brave. In this spirit we spe first night in a camp hunt-rather cooling our first night in a camp hunt—rather cooling for a tart. But it was not a flong lane that never turns." Our party came in next day, and we were happy. Andrew Cox was at the head, and any man knowing him might rest assured that we were bound to have some fun. The crowd numbered about twenty men, mest all old hunters. Among the party were Dr. Beasly, Brother Steve Beasly, Oliver Towns, Spencer James, Brit Lane, the always beans you man, and many others not now re-Towns, spencer James, Brit Lane, the airwys happy man, and many others not now remembered. We spent the week most pleasantly. Uncle Billy Davis on hand in every drive and killed about thirteen deer and a good many turkeys. What rare sport it was then! Game was abundant, and when the day's burt was over and we gathered around day's hunt was over and we gathered around the camp fire at night what an inexhaustible supply of ammunition those old hunters had on hand to tell. With an hexhausthes supply of administration those old hunters had on hand to tell. With sanguine joy we as amsteurs listened to those startling stories. 'Twas here the writer heard the first wolf howl—most terrible earstartling music—one kept enough noise for twenty. A deer had been shot, brought in camp and butchered, and the seent of the blood had drawn the wolves. How it raised the hair on my head when the dogs all crowded up near the fire frightened.

In those days in western Heard county Dave Grimes was king. His reign was almost absolute, ugly as he was. The men swore by him, and all the women named their babies after him, but Dave did complain that a great many of them changed the name after he broke. Dave, beneath his ugly exterior, carried a warm heart, and most of these people knew well how to reach it, as many a bushel of cern and calico dress for Sunday can teatify. His good deeds were many, his vices but few, and his place was hard to fill. There were several characters that were this, as well as many scenes that transpired in this, as well as many scenes that transpired in that country to which the writer was an eye witness; all in due time, and I am in hopes that no one will think anything personal is intended by the writer in the future as he will not use names where it will cause any domestic confusion. In the description of some they may recognize it, but it is all written to chase dull recognize it, but it is all written to chains and the cares away and to bring up recollections of old friends with whom the writer spent many pleasant hours, and he trusts made many friends among that people that will be lifeting, for he feels that those people are his people, and he rejoices with them in their prosperity and improvement.

"NICARAGUA" SMITH. Cne of Walker's Fillibusters Faced His Fate.

From the St. Louis Globe Democrat. GALVESTON, Texas, October 26.—Strolling through the city cemetery yesterday, in company with a friend, the Globe-Democrat reporter was stopped before a grave in that portion of the burying ground known as "potter's field," which was unmarked except by a small wooden cross, and his companion remarked:

Here is the place where William Smith is buried. He was a hard citizen, and was com-monly called 'Nicaragua Smith,' from having served under the filibaster, Walker, in his invasion of the Central American states. After the defeat and death of Walker, Smith drifted to Galveston, where he spent most of his time gambling, and just at the breaking out of the war was run out of town by a vigilance com-mittee on suspicion of having been connected with a number of burglaries which had been

"Joining an artillery company, composing the nucleus of Cook's regiment, Smith returned to the city, and with his command was sta-tioned at the batteries on Pelican Spit, a small sand islet at the entrance of the harbor, and a couple of miles distant from the city. After a few months' duty he became tired of the service, and one dark night stole a small boat and made his way to the federal blockading float at archor off the jouter bar. He was then sent to New Orleans, and nothing was heard-of him for months.

"On the 3d day of January, 1863, just after the battle of Galveston, as the steamer Harriet Lane and her captor, the confederate cotton clad Bayou City lay in the harbor, with the prow of the rebel gunboat jammed into the wheel house of the Lane, so that neither of them could move, the steamship Cambria, from Nove Calenta and of the head. or them could move, the steamship Cambria, from New Orleans, arrived off the bar with several hundred United States troops under command of General Edmund J. Davis, afterwards governor of the state. A small boat was sent ashore under command of Smith, and pulled alongside of the Harriet Lane, which still floated the American flag, and requested these could be sent out for the and requested that a pilot be sent out for purpose of bringing the Cambria over the bar. "The boat's crew were immediately made prisoners, and Captain John Paine, an old prisoners, and Capiain John Paine, at old steamboat man, volunteered to go out and pilot the federal vessel into port so she could be captured, and did succeed in boarding her. As soon as he stopped upon her decks he was recognized as an uncompromising rebel, and the commander of the Cambria finding that Galveston had been recaptured, headed his ship for New Orleans, taking Paine along as a prisoner.

A few days after his capture a court martial was convened for the purpose of trying. Nicaragua Smith for desertion. He was found guilty of all the charges and specifications and condemned to die. In February, 1863, in presence of all the troops of the post, he was marched to the place of execution on an open space near the grave yard, now all built upon, and placed in front of the firing party. He refused to have his eyes bandaged, and on being asked if he had any last request to make, replied with an oath: "Yes; bury to make, replied with an oath: "Yes; bury me face down!"

"The command 'Fire' was then given, and Smith, at the report of the gups, iell forward upon his face stone dead, five Enfield rifle balls having pierced his body. The corpse was then turned over to the widow, who followed it to its less vesting, place in 'Patter's lowed it to its last resting place in 'Pottor's field,' the only mourner."

Dave, beneath his ugly exterior, carried a warm heart, and most of these people knew well how to reach it, as many a bushel of corn and calico dress for Sunday can testify. His good deeds were many, his vices but few, and his place was hard to fill. There were several characters that were rich that will come to the front after this, as well as many scenes that transpired in that country to which the writer was an expension. that country to which the writer was an eyo witness; all in due time, and I am in hopes that no one will think anything personal is intended by the writer in the future as he will not use names where it will cause any domestic not use names where it will cause any domestic confusion. In the description of some they may recognize it, but it is all written to chase dult cares away and to bring up recollections of old friends with whom the writer spent many pleasest hours, and he trusts made many friends among that people that will be lifelorg, for he feels that those people are his people, and he rejoices with them in their prosperity and improvement.

"NICARAGUA" SMITH,

How the of Walker's Fillibusters Faced His Fate.

From the St. Louis Globe Democrat. GALVESTON, Texas, October 26.—Strolling through the city cemetery yesterday, in company with a friend, the Globe-Democrat reporter was stopped before a grave in that portion of the burying ground known as "poter's field," which was unmarked except by a small weaden cross, and his companion resmall wooden cross, and his companion remarked:

"Here is the place where William Smith is buried. He was a hard citizen, and was commonly called 'Nicaregua Smith,' from having served under the filibuster, Walker, in his invasion of the Central American states. After the defeat and death of Walker, Smith drifted to Galveston, where he spent most of his time gambling, and just at the breaking out of the war was run out of town by a vigilance committee on suspicion of having been connected with a number of burglaries which had been sand islet at the entrance of the harbor, and a couple of miles distant from the city. After a few months' duty he became tired of the service, and one dark night stole a small boat and made his way to the federal blockading fleet at archor off the jouter bar. He was then sent to New Orleans, and nothing was heard of him for months.

"On the 3d day of January, 1863, just after the battle of Galveston, as the steamer Harriet Lane and her captor, the confederate cotion clad Bayou City lay in the harbor, with the prow of the rebel gunboat jammed into the wheel house of the Lane, so that neither of them could move, the steamship Cambria, from New Orleans, arrived aff the bar with several hundred United States troops under command of General Edmund J. troops under command of General Edmund J. Davis, afterwards governor of the state. A small boat was sent ashore under command of Smith, and pulled alongside of the Harriet Lane which stills. Lane, which still floated the American flag, and requested that a pilot be sent out for the purpose of bringing the Cambria over the bar.

"The boat's crew were immediately made prisoners, and Captain John Paine, an old steamboat man, volunteered to go out and pilot the federal vessel into port so she could be captured, and did succeed in boarding her. As soon as he stepped upon her decks he was recognized as an uncompromising rebel, and the commander of the Cambria finding that Galveston had been recaptured, headed his ship for New Orleans, taking Paine along as a prisoner.

He was found guilty of all the charges and specifications and condemned to die. In February, 1863, in presence of all the troops of the post, he was marched to the place of execution on an open space near the grave yard, now all built upon, and placed in front of the firing party. He refused to have his eyes bandaged, and on being asked if he had any list request to make, replied with an oath: "Yes; bury me face down!"

"The command 'Fire' was then given, and "The command 'Fire' was then given, and Smith, at the report of the gurs, fell forward upon his face stone dead, five Enfield rifle balls having pierced his body. The corpse was then turned over to the widow, who followed it to its last resting place in 'Potter's field,' the only mourner."

A Description of the Sensations Experienced by One Who Submitted to Suspension. The following account of the sensations of hanging is sent to the Pall Mail Gazette by a correspondent who is a member of a kind of suicide club, and was actually, he says, partly lung the other day in the presence of several friends:

friends:
"A good stout rope had been obtained. This was recurely fastened to the ratters of the barn roof. I pulled at the rope with my hands to make sure that it would not break. Then I permitted myself to be blindfolded and mounted on a chair. For the moment, I admit, I was weak enough to turn pale and tremble. I was weak enough to turn pale and tremble. I was weak enough to turn pate and tremble. I soon, however, recovered my presence of mind. Putting my head through the noose, I gave the signal. I felt the chair drawn from under me. There was a great jerk and I felt a violent pain in my neck, as though my rearf had all of a sudden became too tight. Now comes the most curious part of my experience.

which I sdmit was decidedly severe, I lost consciousness. I seemed to be transported into a new world, more beautiful than anything imagined by the poets. I was swimming, me thought, in a sea of oil. The feeling was exquisitely delicious. As I swam casily and without effort through the liquid mass I noticed afar off an island of the most glorious emerald green color. This it was my wish to reach. I swam lazily and contentedly on. The sea kept every instant changing its hue, though it remained the same substance throughout. At one instant it was a mass of gold, as though the sun was shining brilliantly on it. The next moment it was a vivid blood red; but there was nothing terrible or disgusting in this new color. It kept changing, in fact, to all the hues of the rainbow, yellow and red being the predominant tints. I got nearer and nearer to the isle. As I approached it there sprung out suddenly from the ground a 'number of people strangely transfigured, whose faces seemed to be known to me. I at last reached the land. A magnificent chorus of voices, human and those of bird's, burst forth. I closed my eyes in ecstacy. I fleated calmly on to the shore, and lay as a child in its cradle, slightly weakened from, as I supposed, the enervating effect of the oily matter in which I had been swimming. At child in its cradle, slightly weakened from, as I supposed, the enervating effect of the oily matter in which I had been swimming. At last I opened my eyes.

The MAGIC CHARN WAS AT ONCE DISPELLED.
The divine harmony ceased. The faces were still peering at me with an expression of eager curiosity, but perceived that they belonged to the members of our society. The pain in my neck was great. I was now in entire possession of my senses. My friends had fortunately cut me down in time. I was still weak—too weak to at once relieve my friends' curiosity. When I was able to speak I told them my experience. Though I drew a charming picture of the bliss which I had felt, not one of them would consent to try my experiment. They all considered my conduct experiment. They all considered my conduct hercic, but absolutely refused to emulate me. They said I looked so ghastly!

THE WOLF SPIDER. He Jumps from a Perpendicular Wall and is Snatched Back by His Web.

From Longman's Magazine. From Longman's magazine.

Suddenly appears on the wall a dark gray fly, or perhaps a beetle. It moves with wonderful quickness, but always by fits and starts, sometimes one way and then another.

All at once it darts a few inches from the wall starts, sometimes one way and then another. All at once it darts a few inches from the wall and then flies back sgain to the same spot. This action is several times repeated, and is so quick that the creature's wings can not be seen. I approach the wall more closely, and find that the creature is neither fly nor beetle, nor even an insect. It is a hunting spider, and, of course, has no wings. How, then, did it fly from the wall and back again? I have long been familiar with these pretty and active spiders. I have often seen them sidle cautiously toward a fly, leap upon it, and have a sharp tussle with it before it succumbed to the venomed fangs. Window sills, especially when facing southward, are happy hunting grounds for this spider. I had often seen spider and fly tumble together off the window sill, and presently the spider return, still clasping its prey. It had saved itself from falling to the ground by spinning a thread as it rolled off the sill, and was able to regain its position by climbing up the thread. But until lately I had never seen it leap from a perpendicular wall and to all appearance fly back again. The thread affords the means by which this remarkable feat is performed. It is extremely elastic, and when the spider has reached the end of its leap the thread contracts and jerks it back again, just as a child throws a ball away from him, and draws it back to his hand by an India rubber as a child throws a ball away from him, and draws it back to his hand by an India rubber thread which is attached to it. How I had failed to notice this action for so many years I can not imagine. Even the wolf spider will act in the wolf spider will act in the same wsy. I caught a glimpse of the creature crouching in the wall under the shadow of a vine leaf, so that I could not identify it. Suddenly it darted from the wall and alighted on the ground at some little distance, the clastic thread causing it to describe a slow and graceful curve, just as if it had wings. As it darted from the wall I put the net over it, and, much to my surprise, found that it was no insect, but a wolf spider.

Clingman's Tobacco Ointment.

The most effective preparation on the market for Piles. A sure cure for Itching Piles. Has never failed to give prompt relief. Will cure Ulcers, Abcess. Fistula, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Barbers' Itch, Ringworms, Pimples, Sores, Boils, and stings of insects.

Goop, bad or indifferent, THE CONSTITUTION of tomorrow will contain all the news from the Virginia and New York elections today We think Mahone and Hill are defeated.

THE new mayor of Baltimore is a democrat of the Jackson stripe. He boldly announces that members of the successful party should have the offices, other things being equal.

Earon and Thoman have ceased their patriotic labors of instructing the president as to whom he should appoint to office. Gregory slone of the able trio remains, and his days, too, are numbered.

THE project to incinerate dead bodies, now under way in Buffalo, is meeting with strong opposition from the churches. Bishop Coxe made a strong sermon against it on Sanday night, urging that cremation was opposed to Christian civilization.

By preclamation, the president has appointed the 26th instant as a day of thanksgiving. Now that the republican civil service commission is practically no more, patriotic men can afford to unite in thank-giving-if some neighbor will send in a turkey.

THE French idea of relieving distress is a queer one. The municipal government of Paris, in order to improve the lot of her clamorous workingmen, has decided to expend $300,000, not in public works, but in a series of grand fetes. A Chinese lantern or two will be thrown in also.

THE popular estimates of the present cotton crop still place it at 6,500,000 bales. It certainly will not exceed this estimate: and such a crop, following two small ones, will not overstock the world's markets. If there should be a marked renewal of activity there will be a larger consumption of cotton goods and this will operate to keep the price at least firm and steady.

THE president has gone to New York to vote for Hill for governor. This shows that he is a sincere democrat. Unfortunately he has not yet had an opportunity to fill the offices of the country with democrats. This is to be regretted, but it is an evil that can be remedied. Indeed, it is an evil that must be remedied if we are to have a genuine democratic administration of affairs.

EVERYBODY connected with the Ferdinand Ward case is to be congratulated upon its speedy course and 'perfect conclusion. In three days after a jury had been obtained, he stood convicted of grand larceny, and inthree days more he was in Sing Sing priso serving out a sentence of ten years. Let us hope we have seen the end of prolonged and expersive trials. There should be and read ily may be dispatch in every case.

THE country is to be congratulated upon the fact that both Secretaries Whitney and Endicett are opposed to any more Greely expeditions. They will not recommend one and if their sovice is sought they will oppos any further government explorations of the Arctic regions. Lieutenant Schwatka and other well informed Arctic explorers say that nothing is to be gained by the discovery even of the north pole itself.

GENERAL McCLELLAN left no history of his campaigns. He had prepared a work, but the manuscript was unfortunately burned When a similar misfortune occurred to Carlyle, the veteran humbug read a novel or two, and then, in angry fit, proceeded to reproduce the manuscript, touching it up here and there with a more lurid light. General McClellan never had the heart to attempt to reproduce his work, and the result is that he side of the case (he had been the victim of many criticisms) will never be adequately

THE gains of the national liberals in the German reichstag may not overthrow Bismarck's home policy, but it certainly shows the drift of public sentiment in the country. The great chancellor left in 1879 the liberals and joined the conservatives and [entered into an alliance with the Catholic center. led by Herr Windthorst. The conservatives gained at each election, and the liberals and progressists lost ground up to the recent election. If the election of 1877 increase the liberal majority, they will regain control of the imperial parliament. In 1876 the liberals and progressists had a clear majority of that body, and they have yet to freach the strength of that year.

NEW YORK, Virginia, Mississippi, Mary land and lows vote today. The democrats should carry all but the latter state, which is conceded to the republicans, though by a decreased majority. The interest of the day centers in the contests in New York and Virginia. The democratic outlook in the former state has been gloomy for the past two weeks, though for two days the prospect has materially brightened. The democracy has now only to fear treachery among the New York city factions probability is that Hill will be elected gov rnor by a good majority. But the ways of he New York voters are inexpressibly pecuiar, and no one can foretell the result of day's election. In Virginia there is scarcely by doubt of Lee's election by a majority eer Wise, ranging from ten to twenty-five ionsand, and the choice of a democratic gislature, which will elect Mahone's sucesor. This in itself would be glory enough THE SOUTHERN ISSUE.
Should this not occur, th

Mr. John Sherman, speaking his campaign pieces in Virginia, has seen fit to subject them to a very severe modification. In Ohio, he was very sure that the southern rebels. bulldozers and assessins had managed to sup press the nogro vote, either by keeping the colored voters away from the polls, or by efusing to count their ballots. In Virginia he suppresses these wholesale appeals to prejudice, and says that all the republican party demands is a free ballot and a fair count. Certainly nobody can object to this position. Upon this depends honest government, and Mr. Sherman will find that the south is es willing to go as far in this direction as the sectionalists of the north.

Governor elect Foraker, however, is not a trimmer, and when he leaped into the political arena in New York, he set off the redlights and tried to shake the continent. Today, Forsker is much more of a representative republican then John Sherman. He said in New York that the negro yote is suppressed in the south, and then he went on to assert that the men who marched up to the cannon's mouth to save the union would not hesitate to take up arms in behalf of a free ballot in the south. This is why we said that Forsker and his friends are advocating civil war.

In some respects the utterances of such men assume a very serious shape, for they have the ear of a great many people whom culture and prejudice combine to render ignerant people, no matter what their ignosence springs from, will not be likely to learn the truth in regard to the practical dissppearance of the negro vote in the south They cannot be convinced that the negroes in the rural districts take no sort of interest in politics, nor can they be brought to believe that the lack of organization has as much to do with the apathy of the negroes as it would have to do with the apathy of a number of whites correspondingly ignorant. The republicans of the north have been taught to believe that the negroes in the south do nothing from year's end to year's end but wait for an opportunity to vote the republican ticket. They have been taught to believe that a negro vote is a republican vote, and the result is, that they expect the republican vote in the south to tally with the number of negro voters. In short, they regard the negro as some new sort of human being, whose motives and intentions are different from those of other human beings, in that they are for the republican party at all times and under all circumstances.

In other words, the republican leaders of the north and those who lend an ear to their mouthings expect the negroes of the south to present a solid republican front, in the face of the fact that there is no republican organization in the south, and in the face of the further fact that the only white republicens with whom the negroes have been brought in contact are a set of reckless and unscrupulous adventurers and swindlers, for whom they could not possibly have any respect. There is no doubt of the fact that such men as Foraker breathe civil war. They propose to carry the negroes to the polls at the point of the bayonet. The spirit of these men is rebuked by various respectable republican publications, and if the issue is pushed we shall have a division in the republican party that means peace to the country through the ascendancy of the democratic party. We shall watch developments with much interest.

THE BLECTIONS TODAY.

Twelve states hold elections today. The Maryland election would have been very interesting, if the democratic victory in Baltinot determined how the go. The new legislature will not only reelect Senator Gorman, but it will put a democrat in the gubernatorial office, in the place of Acting Governor L'oyd. Pennsylvania elecis a state treasurer and local officers. Mr. Quay, the republican nominee for treasurer, will go in, but he will not come within gunshot of Mr. Blaine's majority of 80,000. The New Jersey election is sharply contested, because one balf of the upper house of the legislature, to be chosen today, will participate in the election of an United States senator in the place of Mr. Sewell, a republican. The elections in Massachusetts and Mississippi are not seriously contested, although each elects a governor and legislature, and the legislature of Mississippi will choose two sensions-one in the place of Mr. George, whose term will soon expire, and one in the place of Mr. Walthall, appointed by the governor to take Mr. Lamar's place. Iowa is excited. The democrats and greenbackers united are trying to defeat the republicans. and if they succeed they will capture a governor and an United States senator, in the place of Mr. Allison. Connecticut elects a part of its legislature, and the election in that tate is not very warm or interesting. Colorado elects only a judge, and Nebraska a judge and a regent. Arkansas also elects a indge.

The interest in today's elections is largely centered in Virginia and New York. No one es thus far been permitted to know how either will go. All, however, can guess. The best guessing points to the election of Fitzhugh Lee, over John S. Wise, in Virginia, and leaves the legislature in a cloud of doubt. In New York, democratic prospects have improved within a week, and there are many old guessers who think they can see a way to count Mr. Hill in. It is something of a equerze, bowever. We will all know in the morning, and at present we can only hope that David B. Hill's banner will proudly wave in the morning air.

WHERE CHEAP LABOR IS WANTED In this country the influx of such a trifle es a bundred thousand Chinese has caused an cutery sgainst chesp labor. The law was invoked to check Mongolian immigration, and in some instances mob violence was resorted to.

Mexico takes a different view of cheap labor. The 2,000,000 whites who compose the ruling classes in that country want the cheapest labor that can be bad. To this end, it is proposed to run a line of steamships from China to Mexico for the express purpose of importing Chinese laborers. If our Mexican friends carry out this project the country south of us will rapidly fill up with Chinese. With the cheapest labor in the world it will not be long before Mexico will compete with us'in many lines of products and manufactures. The solution of the problem will be watched with inter-

BROTHER BLAINE has built himself another house at Augusta, Maine. It is supposed that this is an evidence of a restless mind.

In El Paso, Texas, the other night, the Rev. Dr. Ditzler preached against indiscreet dancing and kating. Lieutenants Day and Birmingham, of the United States army, were present with two ladies, but retired. After they left, the preacher said that persons sometimes left the church when be preached against dancing and skating. Later Lieutenants Day and Birmingham returned and charged Dr. Ditzler with making insulting remarks about them and their companions. This was denied, but the officers old the old gentleman that he was a liar, By this time great excitement prevailed, and a rush was made to protect the preacher. A strong man got in front of the officers and promising to anwer for the remarks made, demanded their departure from the church. The disturbers of the neeting then left. It is probable that the memers of the church will demand a court martial.

GENERAL JOE HAWLEY is to make a speech be re the Norfolk club, of Boston. He should re vise the remarks of Rev. Edward Everett Hale. THE desperate republicans are still trying to make an issue of John Roach. They should tr little Billy Chandler. He is a martyr.

When he left New York on his way back to prison the parting with the lady members of his family was quite affecting. Those who looked on said it tentiary. It is believed by many that after a year or so Fish's friends will take active steps to secure his pardon. JOSEPH PULITZER has created a sensation by stating under coath that he is not the editor, prorietor or publisher of the New York World.

A FEW weeks ago the Grant Monument associa tion in New York received a fifty dollar confederte note from a resident of Augusta, Ga. As soon as the fact was published various sums were of fered for the note. Finally Mr. John Pallman offered to take the note at its face value. The offer was accepted.

THE idea of inoculation against zymotic diseases amounts almost to a mania among some o the European doctors. M. Tayon recently said a the Acsdemic descences that he had inocula-ted himself and several friends with the microbe of typhoid fever, and that all of them were seized with symptoms of a mild form of that disease. Further inoculations with a more powerful pre-paration of the typhoid microbe failed to bring about a repetition of the symptoms.

Easter will fall next year on its earliest ossible date, namely, St. Mark's Day, April 2 The last time that it so fell was 1736, old style, (1734 new style.) The next time will be in 1943, (1734 new style.) The next time will be it for, new style. Raster falls on St. Mark's day at irregular intervals, happening on an average three times in four centuries. At present, however, it happers, about once a ceutury, at intervals of either 57, 68, 84, 95, 152 or 163 years. This will continue till the year 490%, when three intervals of 320 and 88 years will intervene.

Some little panic has been caused in the camp of the Virginia republicans by the defectio of a colored supervisor, with a considerable fol-lowing, in a close district near Richmond. To sowing, in a close district near kickmond. To succeed in his chief endeavor Mahone must cap-ture fourteen legislative districts in which the democrats had majorities at the last election, but if the main body of his army is not more subser-vient than this supervisor the battle at the polls today can hardly be entered upon with confi-dance.

MR. LABOUCHERE thus sums up the eight cardinal questions upon which the radical mind is made up: 1 Abolition of the herditary principle in the house of lords. 2. Disestablishment of the church of England. 3, Free education: 4. Local government by bodies elected by the inhabitants of the locality. Taxation based upon equality of sacrifice. 6. A drsstic tchange in the laws regulating the tenure of land. 7. Shorter parliaments, 8. C., November 2 -[Special]-Just one week from tomorrow the seventeenth annual sair of the South Carolina agricultural and me spite of their accredited yankee ingenuity—how far behind many great historical nations they still are in utilizing, for coining money, their natural advantages. So far, it seems hardly to have dawned on the minds of quarry owners that they can make any other use of their raw material than to saw it up into slabs for table shelves, tombstones, washbowls and mantelpieces. And yet, when, more than 2,600 years ago, quarries of no whit better marble were discovered in Asia Minor, Greece and Italy shread men saw at once into what the find chanical society will begin in this city and last our days. The fair promises to be one of the most complete and interesting ever given under the auspices of this association; many predict that it will eclipse any exhibition ever given in South Carolina. The indefatigable officers of the society have done everything in their power to then 2,060 years ago, quarries of no whit better marble were discovered in Asia Minor. Greece and Italy, shrewd men saw at once into what the find really meant. Michael Angelo, one of the first authorities in the world in everything connected with the marble business, once asserted in the most unqualified terms that there was a glorious statue of a nymph, or hero, or god inside every block that was ever lifted by derrick from the strata beneath, and that all it was necessary to do, to get at the statue, was to knock off with chisels and mallet the superfluous stone around it. This successfully done, the market value of the marble would go up at once 500 per cent over what it would bring for wash bowls or combetones. No doubt just the same thing had been said 1500 years before Michael Augelo's time, but the shrewd thing about the Pantelic, Parlan and Carrara quarry owners of Greece and Italy was that, as soon as it was said, they saw in a wink just where their business interests lay, and went into partnership with men of the stamp of Phidias and Praxiteles, who had thoroughly mastered the business of knocking off just enough, and not too much, of the merely extraneous marble, to save infact every nose, lip, eye or finger of the inside slatues. As long as men will pay a higher price for works of genius than for others, why should a rational quarry owner bite his own nose off because, individually, he does not care a straw between them. And yet, the visitor retreats from the painful scene, only to hear outdoors a multitudinous sighing from the solrits entombed in the interior of the blocks lying round, articulating itself in a cry like that of Sterne's poor starling: "We can't get out!" Now, what is the good of lorever boasting about the inventive genius of our national Whitney, with his gin for extracting the cottonseed from the cotton, while no kindred genius has as yet patented any as practical device for shelling out these lovely or mejestic divinities from the mere husk that imprisons them. Its infancy, but, until the future inventor comes along, is it not a shame and a scandal that, in the face of all the teachings of history, our richest quarry owners should still refuse to avail themselves of the handwork of the class of the community to which Pridias and Praxiteles belonged of old? While even uneducated revivalists boast of an infallible process for shelling an (xquisitely finished saint out of the rind of the most dis eputable sinner, is it to the credit of Vermont and Georgia that their quarryment should still so linger in the rear? Depend upon it, the more enterprising firms will have to read, not "Brown & Jones," but "Brown & Pridias," "Jones & Praxiteles," hefore America sees any development of the marble interest worthy the size of the country,

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

CARD FROM AND INTERVIEW

Gathered From Other Sources Upon the Rate war, its Present Status and What May be Ex-pected— a Conference Held by Mr. At-more, Mr. Danley and Mr. Wrens.

In THE CONSTITUTION of yesterday was published a rumor to the effect that Charles P. Atmore, gen-eral passenger agent of the Louisville and Nash-ville railroad, had notified Mr. Joseph M. Brown, general passenger agent of the Western and At-lantic railroad, that his cut rate office in Knoxville must be closed, so far at least as the sale of tickets over the lines of the Louisville and Nashville system is concerned, as that line wou not pro rate on western business after Novemb

The publication of the rumor created much comment in railroad circles. It was stated that Mr. Wrenn had on Saturday last in Chattanooga informed certain parties that the office would be discontinued after the last, and that information of a similar character had gone out from the Atlanta citice of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad.

Yesterday, a Constitution reporter called upon Mr. Brown, general freight and passenger agent of the Western and Atlantic railroad, for the purpose of ascertaining what truth there was in the rumor, and found him in Mr. Angier's effice, passenger agent of the Western and Atlantic.

"Well," raid Mr. Brown, "you can just state that the office is still open, and will remain so, the office has been a thorn in the side of the East Tennessee road ever since it was opened."

"How about the telegram that is said you got from Mr. Atmore, notifying you to close the office by the first, as after that time the Louisville and Nashville railroad would not pro rati its business with the Western and Atlantic out of Knoxville?"

"In answer to the question, I will say that in a few days! think that you will see that rumor is incorrect, and we are still selling tickets to the west at our Knoxville office over the Louisville and Nashville railroad. The L and N. would oe the last road in the country to refuse to recognize our tickets. It knows better than to do that, as we could use the Cincinnatti Southern and Memphis and Charleston"

"I'll say this much," said Mr. Alton Angler, passenger agent of the Western and Atlantic, "that I know of some people who are getting mighty sick of this cut rate business, and no one connected with our line is in condition to go to the hospital. All of us are in first rate health."

"Yes," said Mr. Brown, "we are as robust and health," "es you say that you have not received any committed to the site."

Fo you say that you have not received any communication with reference to this matter from Mr. Atmore?" asked the reporter.
"That is about the size of it" put in Mr. Angier, "and we are not likely to, and you can say that there is no change in the situation in Knoxyille. The office is still open and we are soiling cut rate tickets to all points as usual and will continue to do so. Mr. Wrenn told friends of ours in Chattanooga last week that Mr. Atmore was going to shut down on us after the 1st, and these friends to shut down on us after the 1st, and these friend cold us. In a day or two I think we can give yo ANOTHER VERSION OF THE AFFAIR. The reporter then invaded the ticket office of the Rest Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia raliroad, and asked Mr. Jack W. Johnson, ticket agent, what he knew about the rumor. Said Mr. Johnson: "Well, you see I never know anything about matters of that character. Mr. Wrenn is in Knoxville, and Mr. Griffin is out of the city."

Later in the day the reporter met a prominent mailroad official and asked him what he knew as to the truth of the rumor in question.

Faid he: "The article published by The Constitution yesterday in its railroad column stated the situation correctly, and I can't see how you can improve on it. Wednesday last Mr. Atmore of the Louisville and Nashville, Mr. Danley of the Nashville and Chattanoga, and Mr. Wrenn of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia, held a meeting in Nashville, at which the subject of rate cutting was fully and freely discussed. These gentlemen, without an exception, expressed a desire to see the war at an end, and after talking over the matter, came to a satisfactory conclusion. The day following I saw adioaten in which it was stated that Mr. atmore had notified the management of the Western and Atlantic railroad that siter November 1st the Louisville and Nashville would not pro rate its western business with the Western and Allantic. I think, as I have already said, that your article vesterday covers the tubic to properly, and can't be improved upon."

THE KNONVILLE OFFICE.

The effice in Knonville opened by the Georgia traffic association, it is attact, hus been rented until January 1, and the belief is pretty general that rate cutting to the west is on the verge of the grave. While the cutting of rates to the west may

While the cutting of rates to the west is be stopped the opinion seems to be general the Georgia traffic association can cut rates out Knoxville into Georgia and Florida by the Vern sid Atlanto and the distribution of the Markoville into Georgia and South Carlon as it is so inclined. The information of the seems of system and the Georgia traffic association, which may come to light in a day or two. It is also rumored that one of the lines interested in the fight has saked for a few days time in which to consider what it will do.

Brown Didn't Get the Notice. Follows Constitution: In your issue of the morning, under heading of "Brown-Notified," ypublished a rumor to the effect that the gene passenger agent of the Louisville and Nashvi rallroad a few days since notified me that of Knoxville cut rate office must be withdrawn once, and that, accompanying the notice, was tatement that if the office was not dispensed why the first of November no lickets sold by the office would be recognized by the Louisville a Nashville railroad Nashville railroad has thred of prorating cut rates, and has decided to Nashville railroad. You add that it is believed that the Louisville and Nashville railroad has got tired of prorating cut rates, and has decided to refuse to draw double any longer with the Gedrgia traffic association in its fight on the East Tennessee. Virginia and Georgia railroad.

Referring to the above, allow me to state that we have received no such demand from the Louisville and Nashville railroad. I will state to you authoritively that the ticket office of the Western and Atiantic railroad is open in Knozville today, and it is likely to continue open.

In other words, we have not made and do not expect to make any such back-down as was made within the past ten days by another line which proposed to establish a branch ticket office at another large city for the purpose of trying to break down our business, but which did.

proposed to establish a branch ticket office at another large city for the purpose of trying to break down our business, but which did not establish the said office.

Your reference to the fight which you say the Georgia traffic association has made on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad is a literature of line, when we consider the fact that without any provocation, the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad last fall, in violation of the agreement, began sending soliciting agents to local stations on the Western and Atlantic railroad and thus endeavoring to wantonly break down our local business; and also begen cutting and demoralizing the rates from chattanooga, Rome, Dalton and Atlanta.

We endeavored to secure the abandoument by that company of that policy. We refused to go into the rate demoralization for months, during which, not only our business from terminal polinis, but to some extent, our local business was in juriously affected by the cuts made by the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad.

which, not only our business from terminal points, but to some extent, our local business was in juriously affected by the cuts made by the East Tribicisse, Virginia and Georgia railroad. We exhausted every ponorable means to secure stability and maintenance of rates; but at length laving obtained from their receiver the definite statement that his line was not maintaining rates in Georgia, we decided that we could no longer afford to maintain rates in Tennessee. In other words, having had an incessant skirmish fire kept upon us for nearly a year, we at length decided, in military parlance, to shandon the "purely defensive" and assume the "offensive defensive;" hence, the establishment of our offices at Knoxville about ten months after the cutting of rates was commenced by the East Tennessee. Virginia and Georgia railroad, and after their interference with our local business. We intend to continue it and to keep up the practice of cutting rates from Knoxville just as long as the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad continues the practice of cutting rates from Knoxville just as long as the fast Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad continues the practice of cutting rates from Knoxville just as long as the fast Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia had been practicing it, the receiver of the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia had been practicing it, the receiver of the Mass notified by the president of this company that we had been andy from the beginning, and were il ready to maintain requisiversities in accordance in the common usage between competing rail-to this companies.

non seems to be general that sacciation can cut rates out of swing on between the Louisville and Nashville sistem and the Georgia traffic association, which may come to light in a day or two. It is also runored that one of the lines interested in the fight has saked for a few days time in which to consider what it will do.

Brown Didn's Commence of the lines in the fight has saked for a few days time in which to consider what it will do.

Editors Constitution: In your issue of this moning, under heading of "Brown Notified," you published a rumor to the effect that the general passenger agent of the Louisville and Nashville passenger agent of the Louisville and Nashville passenger agent of the Louisville and Nashville rullroad a few days since notified me that our knoxville cut rate office must be withdrawn at ence, and that, accompanying the notice, was the statement that if the office was not dispensed with the the first of November no tickets sold by that office would be recognized by the Louisville and Nashville railroad has got that the Louisville and Nashville railroad has got that of prorating cut rates, and has decided to reduce that the Louisville and Nashville railroad.

Referring to the above, allow me to state that we have received no such demand from the Louisville and Nashville railroad. I will state to you authoritively that the ticket office of the Western and Allsantic railroad is open in Knoxville today, and it is likely to continue open.

In other words, we have not made and do not Circet to make any such back-down as was made within the past ten days by another line which proposed to establish a branch ticket office at another large city for the purpose of trying to break down our business, but which did not establish the sid office.

Tour reference to the fight which you say the Georgia raiffc association has made on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia raifroad is a lituated line, when we consider the fact that without any provocation, the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia raifroad is a lituated line, when we consider the fact that without any provocation, the Kast Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia raifroad is a lituated line, when we consider the fact that without his past to the summary of that policy. We refused to go into the rate demoralization for months, during which, not only our business from tending the fast from Latina and Georgia raifroad.

We endeavored to secure the abandonment by that company of that poli

Joseph M. Brown, General Passenger Agent. darta, Ga., November 2nd, 1885.

Another Cut. The Central railroad dropped back to cut rate prices yesterday, and announced the following schedule: To Macon $1, round trip $2; to Savan-nah $3, round trip $5. It was given out by the ficials of the road that rates to all Florida points cheaper than ever.

Last night it was announced that the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad would today make the rate to Macon 50 cents.

Another Fast Train The East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia rail-road, and the Cincinnati Southern have arranged the schedule for a fast train to transport the orange crop from Jacksonville to Cincinnat!. The time is flity-five hours between these points. The schedule will go into effect on the 15th instant, and will be the fastest on record. The time to points beyond Cincinnati will be correspondingly fast. This codule will give the East Tennessee superior advantages over other lines for handling the orange crop.

The Louisville and Nashville, NEW YORK, November 2.—The official state-ment of the Louisville and Nashville railroad company for the month of September shows gross earnings $1,146.978; expenses $682,494; net earnings $464,464. There was expended for construction $25,547, leaving net over ex-penses and construction $437,937.

THE GAS ORDINANCE.

Mr. Scoville of the Kimball Heartly Eadorses the Measure.

The ordinance passed by the city council of Atlanta yesterday prohibiting the keepers of hotels and boarding houses of the city from turning off the gas at the meter at any time during the night after it has been turned on, meets with the indersement of the proprietors of the hotels of the city. In many instances the keepers of small boarding houses, as a matter of economy, stop the flow of gas through the pipes by cutting it off at the meter, so as to prevent leakage, and when the gas is again turned on at an early hour, in the morning for the conat an early hour in the morning for the con-venience of the boarders who have to get up at an early hour, or for the servants, a good deal of it escapes and is wested, not to speak of the darger in suffocating inmates of rooms who, when they retired, left their gas burning. Last night a Constitution reporter called upon Mr. Scoville, of the Kimball, and asked him what he thought of the ordinance.
"I think that it is a good one" said Mr. Scoville, "and believe that it could only be improved upon by the legislature making a law to cover the whole state. The ordinance I hardly think will in any way effect hotels or boarding houses that take transient boarders hardly think will in any way elect notels of boarding houses that take transient boarders as these places are obliged to keep some of their lights burning all night. For instance take this house, I could not turn off the gas for a second, On an average three hundred lights burn in this house all night. I never turn off my gas day or night at the meter. I have a dozen people at work here every night all nightlong. What would the office clerks, porters, bell boys, scrubbers and watchmen do if the gas was turned off? Then, again, suppose some of my guests were sick and the light was turned off. You can see very easily that such an ordinance is not aimed at the hotels and boarding houses of the city of any consequence. As I have said before I think the ordinance a good one and should suggest to the legislature the passage of a law on that line. The danger of men being suffocated by gas it seems would suggest the necessity for a general law upon the subject. Guests frequently go to bed and leave their lights burning, and if the gas waturned off and then turned on again the danger of sufficcation would be very great."

A TEN DOILAG GOLD PIECE. Is Dropped Into a Sputoon and Causes the Arrest of a Negro.

Atlanta National bank dropped a ten dollar gold piece into a spittoon.

Last night Frank Carroll was given a cell in the city prison for he nd ing that ten dollar gold piece.

The gold piece was dropped into the spittoon by accident, and the colored janitor was notified of it and told to recover the piece when he clean d the spitteens. It so happens that the anitor is too hightened to do that work, and has a stancing contract with a small negro to do it for him. This small negro receives for his work the old paper daily secumulated about the bank. Yesterday morning when the small negro went to the bank to clean the spittoons, the janitor torgot to tell him about the ten dol-lar gold piece and when the boy found it he did not know its value and without saying did not know its value and without saying a word dropped it in his pocket.

After the boy had completed his work and left the bank with his bundle, of old paper the colored janitor thought of the ten dollar goldpiece and at once hunted up his small boy to recover it.

After the small boy left the bank he went to Hirschfield, on Mitchell street, to sell his paper. On the way he met Frank Carroll to whom he showed the gold-piece, and asked what it was worth. Carrol offered the boy a dollar for it and the boy took the dollar. This trade had been completed when the bank dollar for it and the boy took the dollar. This trade had been completed when the bank janitor found the boy. The boy admitted having found the piece and told what he had done with it. The janiter then found Carroll and tried to get the coin back but Carroll denied having bought it. An officer was called in and Carroll was arrested. He persisted in his denial and is now ecupying a cell in the city prison.

WHLMAM'S QUICK TIME.

The Darkey Who Always Drives Fast Pass-William Williams was up in police court again yesterday morning, and was asked to enter a plea to the charge of disorderly driv-

This makes the fifth time Williams has been arraigned upon this same charge within the past three weeks. Williams seems to have a mania for careless, disorderly driving.

Late Sunday afternoon Williams was out with a pair, and while driving on Hunter street.

with a pair, and while driving on Hunter street ran into the rear of a funeral procession. The procession was moving too slow for Williams, and pulling to the right he threw his whip upon the horses and started off at a two-ten gate. As Williams went by the carriages, horses began to plunge and attempted to increase their speed, much to the annoyance of the pople. The matter was reported at police headquarters early vesterday morning, and in a short the matter was reported at potted that there early yesterday morning, and in a short while Patrolmen Steint and Cuapman succeeded in arresting Williams. In police court he entered a plea of not guilty, but the evidence was all against Williams, and he was asked to pay five seventy-five.

Charles Gresham, a dark skinned Jehu, will stand up in police court this morning to answer the charge of reckless driving.

Gresham runs a drey for a living.

Yesterday afternoon, with a heavy load on his drey Gresham came down Whitshall street neck and neck with a street car. The race was between Hunter and Alabama streets, on the down grade, and was quite exciting to the street car driver and Gresham. At the crossing in front of Andersen's clothing house, Gresham came within an ace running over a lady who was crossing the street. Fortunately for the lady a gentleman who was crossing behind her grabbed her from under the horse's feet. Patrolmen Thompson and Garvey, who were on the beat, managed to stop Gresham, and conducted him to police headquarters Gresham claims that his horse "took the bit and went away from him."

NEW YOUR STOCKS. Stocks at Reported to the New York Stock

Kzelisnge. NEW YORK, November 2.- The stock market today has been feverish, active and irregular. At from a small decline to an advance of 1/4 per cent over Saturday's closing figures, Lackawanna, Union Pacific and Reading being the most promiment for the gains established, while Missouri Pacific and New York Central were weak. The market was extremely active in the early dealings, as is shown by the fact that the reported sales for the first half hour were over 112,000 shares. While forencen, the general tendency for a time was upward, followed by a reaction in which the early gains were lost, and then snother strong market that, with irregular and moderate fluctuations, continued until nearly 2 o'clock, the gains by that time ranging from fractions to over 2 per cent. It must be noted, however, that there were a good many exceptions to this rule. The strong stocks included Western Union, Missouri, Kansas and awanta. New York Central was prominent for its comperative weakness, reling at no time above the figure reached soon after opening; but this was also true of Northwestern, Jersey Central, heading, and Missouri Pseific, while Eric and Lackswarns touched the highest quotations be-fore micksy. The appouncement that the Pennsylvenia railway had declared a dividend of only 2 percent instead of the usual amount, 3 percent, was the signal for a selling movement that con-Union, which quickly fell off 1 per cent. The de-cline was aided by a disposition on the part of the plar and decidedly feverish, with changes of only higher, Omaha common 134, Oregon Transconti nental 5, per cent higher, and a few others small fractions higher. Western Union was aided by reperts widely circulated on the street that a pooling agreement between the Western Union and Postal campanics was likely to be made at an early date. It is understood that Pacific Mail and Signmahip company will withdraw its Australian line at once, its contract with the colonies having expired teday. It is said that a London syndicate has recently purchased 150,000 shares of Union Pacific for antipusent abroad. Sales 582,000 shares. Exchange 480%. Features of the Speculative Movement Grain and Produce.

Br telegraph to The Constitution, O URICAGO, November 2-After the first hour here was very fittle speculation in wheat, and the taket rule d quiet and moderately with a narrow range of prices. Trade showed an inclination to awart the publication of the visible upply statement, in the absence of any exciting foreign or mestic news to move the market in either dire en. The market opened easy, called rather sharply, advancing %c, fell back lowly %c, fluctuated and closed on the regular board, and prices remained without any special change on the afternoon board. Receipts continue moderately free and shipments light. It was said that farmers' deliveries showed a falling off, but in the absence of any marked falling off at the principal receiving points, the statement had very little tflect on values. Cables came in weak and noting a decline at Liverpool of 6d for indiv Ciliformia wheat. It was evident that the visible sup-ply would declare an increase of from one to two million bushels. corn, and under these conditions it closed 36% higher than Saturday, and options were generally

The speculative market for oats was firm, and ness pork opened a shade lower, but advanced under a good demand 7%@10c and closed steady, hard was quiet and steady.

The Firemasters Dismiss a Man and He

Yesterday, in the city court, Judge Marshall J. Clarke presiding, a suit was tried between Bryan Parks and the city of Atlanta. Parks was a fireman employed by the city and was dismissed from the service by the board of firemasters on the complaint of Mr. Matt Ryan, who was then chief of the fire department.

There is a city ordinance which says that no man shall be removed from a position without a full and fair investigation. Mr. Parks brought a suit against the city for the failure of the firemasters to give him a trial under the ordinance referred to. He took the position that in dismissing him summarily they had injured him in a way that made the city liable in damages. Judge Clarke took a different view of the matter, holding that under the ordinance the board had the right to limit an employe's term, of employment at to limit an employe's term of employment at will. He therefore non-suited Mr. Parks.

Yesterday a colored citizen who registers under the name of Wade Hampton, was up in the superior court, charged with stealing a clock. Wade went into the house of an old negro and stole the timepiece, and for that deviation from the path of rectitude was sent up for ten years. He can't carry the clock with him

James Neal, a burglarious citizen of the colored persuasion, another hankerer after time, stole a watch from a moke, and will give five years' time for the experiment.

Thus Judge Clark fixes the following rates on the thest of timepieces:

LARCENY AFTER TRUST.

John Barnes, a white boy, charged with larceny after trust delegated, was put on trial but the case was not concluded. The charge is made by a man named Dykes, who alleges that Barnes swindled him out of some jewelry.

CLEARING THE JAIL.

Judge Clark will proceed with jail cases until the jail is cleared. He will then take up bond cases, and there will be a ratting of dry bones amongst those who have so long stalked abroad in the land with indictments hanging over their heads. One of the ments hanging over their heads. One of the most important jail cases to be tried is that of Carter Cotton, who is charged with the marder of old man Vine Ware.

OTHER VOICES HEARD. Mr. McAtee wanted to know whether the city council could pass the law. Mr. Garrett wanted to know whether it could be enforced it passed. Mayor Hillyer said that he thought, in fact knew, that the law would be correct.

Mr. Stockdell knew that the chief of police could enforce it. The ordinance went through by a unani-mous vote, and the chairman of the printing committee was instructed to publish it.

THE HOUSES TO BE RENUMBERED. Mayor Hillyer called the attention of the body to the irregular numbers on the streets, and suggested a resolution remedying the evil.

"Why," said the mayor, "there is not a street in the city that is regularly numbered. Some houses have two numbers and some have none. Some streets have two and three have none. Some streets have two and three houses with the same number and some have no numbers at all. In some instances when people move they carry their number along with them and hang it up at their new house, regardless of its unfitness for the locality."

Mr. Mecaslin had often been distressed by the present irregular system, and wanted it improved. Mr. McAfee wanted the city streets all re-

Mayor Hillyer thought a man ought to be appointed to do the work under the direction of the city engineer, and that each property Mr. Stockdell coincided with the mayor. Mr. Garrett wanted new numbers.

YOUNG BUT BAD. A Negro Gets Three Extra Years in the Penitentiary Through Bad Record. Yesterday Judge Richard H. Clark, judge of the superior court, taught a young negro a severe lesson. The negro's name was Green Jackson, and he was about eighteen years old. Lest week he was convicted of burglary and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. Yesterday he was brought of iail to testify out jail to testify in a case against another negro charged with burglery. Jackson's testimony was evidently untrue and convinced those who heard it that the witness was perjuring himself. When Jackson was through testifying Judge Clark told Sheriff Green to detain him in the prismer's room a short while.

Before court adjourned Judge Clark had

Jackson brought into court, and said:
"I think I've seen you before. I think you've been before me at every term of the court that I've had the honor to hold, and I think you are a bad citizen. You seemed to be in with the man you were testifying about awhile ago. Now the law allows me to change a sentence during the session of the court. The a sentence during the session of the court. The other day I sentenced you to two years, and I'll just add on three more years and make it five. I hope when you come out of the chaingang you will be a better man." [Jackson smiled, and as he was led out of the court room held up his left hand and counted on his fingers "one, two, three, four, five."

He then added:
"Its amusement for me to go to the chaingang.'

THE OLD RELIABLE.

A Few Words of Interest About the Cloth ing Trade,

One of the most important branches of Atlanta's arge and rapidly growing commercial interest is the clothing trade. There is no city in the south that can cope with us in this line, and our goods are sent to all parts of the neighboring represented in fashionable and well fitting garments.

As one of the houses in this line of business which has been foremost in promoting the standard of elegance in dress, that of A. & S. Rosenfeld, the "old reliable" dealers, have obtained an enviable reputation, and rank second to none in the state. They have been in Atlanta many years and have always been known for the extra good quality of their clothing. They are noted for the marked good taste they display in selecting their stock, which is without a superior in any part of the country as to quality, texture, as d style of goods. The premises occupied by them is central, large and commodious, and the owners are greatly resrected by the community as fine practical business men and upright private citizens. For this reason, it is no wonder that they have the estemn of the better class of our people, and built up a trade that is equal to the best in Georgia. Catering always to the best trade, and always keeping such goods as they can afford to and do recommend, they have the confidence of everybody, and asuit of clothes sent out by them invariably means satisfaction. They are now stocked with a beautiful line of fall and winter goods, and those needing clothing cannot do better than by calling first at A. & S. Rosenfeld's, corner Whitchall and Alabama streets.

Maddox was chosen by the nominating committee to represent the fourth ward in the general council. Mr. Maddox's nomination was not ratified by the big committee of sixtyone. Mr. A. L. Green received 49 votes and Mr. Maddox 19. Mr. Greene was Mr. Maddox's connounced before the beautiful enquities. HIGH OLD KICKING Mr. Maddox 19. Mr. Greene was Mr. Maddox's opponent before the nominating committee. Mr. D. G. Jones, a member of the committee of the fourth ward, said he had received no notice of the meeting, and was not there. Had he been present, Mr. Greene, by his vote, would have been chosen in place of Mr. Maddox. Other members of the fourth ward committee claim that they received no notice of the meeting, but just hannened to hear of it. meeting but just happened to hear of it.
These gentlemen were and are
Mr. Greene's facinds. When the big sixty-one committee met there was no majority and minority report made from the fourth ward, both gentlemen's names were placed in nomination before the committee and

Five of the committee of the fourth ward, Nive of the committee of the fourth ward, Messrs. Archer, Buchanan, Nelson, Ecwin and Cluer, Mr. Maddox's friends, don't like the way the big committee have acted, but it is not known what action they will take at the meeting tonight. They don't think "the honorable voters of the city should indorse the action of the big committee, who had to stultify all their prior action in order to squelch the recommendation of the fourth ward committee."

Several gentlemen were asked what could be done by the fourth ward supporters of Mr. Maddox. In every instance the reply was: "If they undertake to do anything they will be thowed under. The big committee can't do anything more than they have done. Any citizen will have the right to make nomination." tions.

THE THIRD WARD. Mr. E. A. Angier was nominated by the committee of the third ward, but some of the committee together with citizens flew the track and at a mass meeting Mr. Robbins was chosen. The big committee selected Mr. Angier, and he is now the nominee of that committee. The third warders who are opposed to the nomination of Mr. Angier propose to make things warm at the meeting tonight. They do not thing Mr. Angier is the choice of that ward, and believe Mr. Robbins more thoroughly identified with the interests of that ward. How the matter will terminate Mr. Robbins will be put forward, however, as Mr. Robbins will be put forward, however, as he is a member of the committee of 61.

Mr. W. A. Haygood, chairman of the big committee, said yesterday:
"I am not prepared to say what will be done at the meeting, but I believe the whole ticket will go through as nominated. The candidates, I suppose, will be voted for by wards, and I guess the majority vote will be shorted."

Everybody is expecting a lively time tonight The following card anded in by Mr. Maddox EDITORS CONSTITUTION: In your issue las Thursday appears the statement of one of the whisky men to your reporter, that I was mistaken in saying my nomination was defeated before the committee of sixty one by the whisky men and influence.

I thoughtso for the following reasons, The day after my unanimous nomination by the ward committee, I was called early in the day by a friend, working with the whisky men, and asked to define my position on whisky.

I told him I was surprised, as I did not know prohibition had gotten out of county into city politics. olitics.

'Yes,'' said he, "they are going to fight every tep. One of them came to me a few minutes go, knowing I was your friend, to find out how ou stand, and I told him I would see you about you stand, and I told him I would see you about it."

"I am for prohibition," I replied.

He then said he would be sorry for my name to go before the big committee because it would certainly be rejected; that the whisky men by their numbers, induced and shrewdness had control of the big committee, and unless I came out for whisky I stood no showing before it.

Two hours later another friend, likewise a whisky man, met me and told me my nomination was "not according to the arrangement," and that "I had better lookout, I would not go through."

When the committee met that night my nomination though unanimous was contrary to the "arrangement" as one of the whisky men called it while talking of it to me; and I received the vote of the whisky men against me, with the votes of some of the others who were not aware of the cat in the meal tub.

Receiving this message and finding the result as they said it had been "arranged," I concluded that I was defeated by the whisky men and influence in the committee, and I still think so. Respectfully, C. K. Maddox,

THE "OLD SCOTCHMAN." A Checkered Life Drawing to a Closs-Six

New York, October 30.—The rector of Grace chapel in one of his periodical visits to Ludlow street jail, became acquainted with and deeply interested in Augustine R. Macdon. ald, geterally known as the "Old Scotch-man," who has spent the lest six years of an adventurous life behind the bars. Law-yer W. H. Arnoux, through sympathy for the old Ecotchman's case as related by the kindold Scotchman's case as related by the kind-hearted rector, volunteered to make an effort to get Mr. Macdonald's release. Lawyer Jas. H. Laird and Jas. C. MacEachen assisted him. They appeared before Judge O'Gorman to-day for that purpose. To oppose them were General Charles E. Hovey, of Hovey & Dole, lawyers, of Washington, D. C., and Thos. M. Wheeler. Mr. Macdonald is a direct de-scendent of a historic Scotch family. His grandfather, Adex, Macdonald, the laird of Glenaladale, was among the first to join the atandard of Prince Charlie. His father was Captain John Macdonald, of Glenaladale, who fled from Scotland to Prince Edward's Standard of Frince Charlie. His father was Captain John Macdonald, of Glenaladale, who fled from Scotland to Prince Edward's island in 1772 to escape religious persecution. Mr. Macdonald was born in Charlottetown, Prince Edward's island, fifty-six years ago. He was educated in England. Among his cellege friends was General Thomas Francis Meagher. He came to this country and studied law under Judge Choate at Boston for a time. He went south and became a successful trader in tobacco and cotton. Just after the capture of Vicksburg, Macdonald was empowered by President Lincoln to make an arrangement with the confederate military authorities by which loyal citizens and neutral subjects of friendly foreign powers might buy cotton from southern factories and hold it without fear of destruction by either union or confederate armies, Mr. Macdonald succeptaed in his mission. He is said to have had about $40,000,000 worth of cotton transferred to him in trust in one day. He bought had about $40,000,000 worth of cotton transferred to him in trust in one day. He bought $2,000,000 worth of his own account. He placed the whole lot under the protection of the British flag. About $3,000,000 worth, including all his own, was destroyed by union troops, under General Osborne, in January, 1865.

The next event of consequence in Mr. Macdonald's life was related by Lawyer Wheeler today. Mr. Macdonald, Mr. Wheeler said, was a subject of Great Britain. In 1869, while a resident of Cincinnati, he filed a petition in bankruitey. Mr. Thomas J. Phelps was chosen as assignee. Among his assets he put in a claim of $200,000 against the government for cotton destroyed in several southern states. His attorney employed Hovey & Dole, of Washington, to assist in prosecuting his claim. He agreed, Mr. Wheeler said, to give Messrs. Hovey & Dole one quarter of the amount recovered. A mixed commission awarded Mr. Macdonald $200,000. Mr. Macdonald, Mr. Wheeler said, refused to pay Messrs. Hovey & Dole for their services. Hovey & Dole resorted to lawsuits to get the money. Their case was dismissed, and Mr. Macdonald received $200,000 through an order of the court. The The next event of consequence in Mr. Mac was dismissed, and Mr. Macdonald received $200,000 through an order of the court. The law firm appealed to the general term and the decree dismissing the case was reversed. In June 1878, Macdonald was ordered to restore $50,000 to the register of the court, the receiver having been discharged Lawyer Wheeler says that Macdonald disappeared from Washington. It was decided that he had disobeyed the order of the court, and he was adjudged emitty of contempt. Six on his failure to do so his answer was stricken out. Then the fight was transferred to this district, where Mr. Macdonald was found. Hovey and Dole began an action in the superior court, charging Macdonald with the wrongful "faking and detention" of personal property. He did not put in an answer, and he was arrested and lodged in Ludlow street jail. Mr. Wheeler said in conclusion: atreet jail. Mr. Wheeler said in conclusion:
"Mr. Macdonald can get out of jail at any time. All we want is to know what he did with that $200,000 he received. We do not want his body, as it is of no use to us."

REFORTS TO RELEASE HIM. Mr. Arnoux, in behalf of Mr. Macdonald, said that he had taken up the old Scothman's case without expectation of tee or reward, but merely in the interest of justice. All that Macmerely in the interest of justice. All that hac-donald wanted was an opportunity to defend himself, which he had neglected through ig-morance of the law. He had been sufficiently punished. He would not have suffered longer imprisonment if he had been guilty of manslaughter. He would be a prisoner for life ua-less he were permitted to come forth and make a defense to the action. He could get his liberty, but liberty under certain circumstances would be-an acknowledgment of the justice of the claim sgainst him. Mr. Arnoux claimed that the reversal of the order of the court paying the money to him could not affect his right to it. Judge O'Gorman received the papers in the case and reserved his decision. Mr. Macdonald says that Hovey and Dole were engaged by Lawyer Mayers of Memphis without his (Macdonald's) consent. The expenses and Bheumattem, Several years ago a cancerous ulcer made its appearance on my chin. Three years ago it sloughed out, but last spring returned. Soon after the cancer appeared, my skin became diseased—any slight wound or bruise would inflame, apread and make as nugly sore. Rough places and heavy black scales formed on my hands and face. Last October I was titached with rheumatism in my feet, ankles, knees and hips, which became so stiff, awollen and sore, and the muscles so much contracted that it was impossible for me to straighten myself. In this terrible condition, no medicine gave me any relief—my appetite and strength failed and I became completely helpless. In this slimost hope-ess gondition I determined to try Guinn's Plonker Bloon Ennewer. I procured a supply and began the use of it. I used it about one month, sud-kso much improved that I began to walk about with the aid of crutches. The cancer on my chin entirely disappeared. The black heavy scales that had formed on my face and hands fell off, and my skin became clear, smooth and healthy. I would also state that for several years I have used this medicine in my rastee in the treatment of glandular and skin diseases, and I have never know it to fall to cure any case where it has been used according to directions. I do, therefore, most cheerfully recommend it to all who may be afflicted with any of the diseases for which it is prescribed. Several years ago a cancerous ulcer made its apm Jones draws well in Atlanta.

The greatest crowd that ever filled the opera met there last night to hear the Georevangelist on prohibition. By o'clock every seat was taken the first row of the pit to the nest tier of the second gallery. After that, ple crowded into the aisles and filled every people crowder in the large auditorium. Hun-leds could not gain admission at all:

The stage had been stripped of all its genery and was filled with several chairs, which were reserved or the Young Men's Prohibition club. At a rter to 8 the club marched from its hall on guarter to 8 in cities and the control in the part of the opera house, preceded by a brass band. were in the audience. Sam Jones was cheered as be entered. The meeting was opened by Colonel T. P. Westmoreland, who that Dr. Hawthorne would pray. announced that Dr. Hawthorne would pray. After an impressive prayer by the dector. Senator Colquitt said he was performing a useless task, but in compliance with an established custom he would introduce the Rev. Sam Jones. As he came forward Mr. Jones received another burst of cheers. He said he could say from his heart tonight that he was proud he was a Georgian. He thanked Got that he had lived to see the day when such a meeting as this was possible. [Applaused] He gloried in the fact that the capital city of Georgia had at last a well defined moral issue. He said:

If you will take, this question off our consciences we will stop talking. My little boy said to me this morning: Papa, do you reckon they will hurt you in Atlanta? I said: "My son, I would rather be a dead lion than a live dog." [Cheers and laughter.] This meeting means that there is an issue and that men are taking sides. I have more respect for the man who comes out squarely for whisky than for one who skulks and won't register and dodges the issue. [Laughter.] If there is anything on this earth that people admire and respect it is a man with the courage of his convictions. I will say to you timid brethren, that there will be no bloodshed, no blackened eyes, no cracked noggins. where young men were called together from home to school needed prohibition, but in Atlanta it was a matter of business."

Pledger said that the man sought through his fallacies to take advantage of the prejudices of the illiterate; that the city of Athens had white students without enforcement of college rules preventing attudents from patrolling the streets at night, filled with strong drink and beating and shooting negroes and the police unable to restrain them, and he referred to the Roundtree trouble and believed that liquor was at the bottom of it; but in Atlants the students are negroes, and the college rules are enforced, and again colored students, as this unknown character knows, are too well acquainted with what their fates would be to go around raising thunder with white women and children, as is done in Athens with colored women and children. He said in many of the rural districts prohibition was good, but in Atlanta he was not willing to see hacks leave the street, the many men employed around the hotels thrown out of employment and laborers in the different stores losing positions, nor was he prepared to see the poor people gwho have small homes lose them because of taxes for paying and other things. He said schools go down. He read letters from Athens. The following are some of them:

Athens, Ga., October St., 1885.—I have watched the existence of prohibition, being a prohibitionist, and I find that labor is greatly injured, and today, notwithstanding the majority for prohibition was 71, it could be returned if a vote was allowed now.

As a man that supported anti-prohibition, st., and I find that labor is greatly injured, and today, notwithstanding the majority for prohibition was 11 find that labor is greatly injured, and today, notwithstanding the majority for prohibition was 271, it could be returned if a vote was allowed now.

As a man that supported anti-prohibition, being a prohibition was continued to the prohibition for large cities injures poor people by making them pay heavier taxes, earnings and be thrown upon an already over-crowded labor market."

Upon motion Messrs. Craig, McMichael and Burnett were appointed a committee to select a committee of eighteen from the various wards to be known as the working committee.

The meeting was an enthusiastic one, but

Mr. Julius L. Brown Answers an Inquiry and Makes a Strong Argument. EDITORS CONSTITUTION: Some zealous, but to me unknown advocate of the pichibition craze, which is now upon us, inserted an article in your paper Thursday morning, the purpose of which seemed to be to impeach and call into question the sincerity of some of us, who differed with him, and who signed the call for the anti-prohibition meeting which was held last Wednesday

My attention has been called to that article and Issk spacelin your columns to reply and since I am questioned to define my position. The other gen-tlemen assailed are fully able to take care of themselves—ordinarily I do not care to answer anything the writer is too much ashamed of to put his name to, but in this instance I will depart from my rule and give Elseyhter). There is not a man in this form who can get up and say whisty nover harmed in the cherton have disagreed. Great laughter, the charge of the doctors have disagreed. Great laughter was dear to him. There's a got the doctors have disagreed. Great laughter and the dectors have disagreed. Great laughter and the dectors have disagreed. Great laughter and the dectors have disagreed in the configuration of the dectors have dectored in the configuration of the dectors have dectored in the configuration of the dectors have decided in the same of probability in the dector of the dect save as a real estate owner and citizen of Atlanta, But I believe the proposed change is unwise, impolitic, undemocratic, wrong and an unwarrantable interference with personal liberty, and I am sgainst it. Is that broad enough ground to take upon the subject? I have endeavored to meet the issue squarely. I will now demonstrate that my views are correct. I suppose that my questioner will concede at the outset that the use and sale of wines and liquors is legal. The law regulates the manufacture and sale of wines and liquors, but it permits them to be made and to be sold and to be used. The statute books of Georgia and of the United States and the decisions of the courts are full of laws upon the subject.

THE TRAFFIC THEN IS A LEGAL ONE.

of Georgia and of the United States and and decipient.

The Traffic then is a Legal One.

About that there can be no question or quibble. Is it morally wrong to use foreign wines or liquors? I group foreign wines and liquors together because the statute law of Georgia which is sought to be put in force in this city puts them on the same looting and alike condemnsishe sale of light German whees, French wines, or any other than "homestic Winnes" in the same manner and under the same penalties, as it does the sale of whisky or brandy or other alcoholic liquor.

By reference to the law sought to be put upon us, it will be seen that the sale of "domestic wines or cider are not included as worthy subjects" of prohibition condemnation. Their sale and use is graciously permitted. If the prohibitionists are right, why should they be? If it is wrong to drink a light German, French, Spanish or other foreign wine, why is it not equally wrong to drink the heavy Georgia wine, the blackberry or the grape, to which, as is well known, alcohol saded in the manufacture? It is a well known fact that the domestic wines of the United States contain very much more alcohol than the foreign wines and for that reason are not in favor. Our domestic wines are more in favor than any other we have. Assuming that they are "domestic wines" and not subject to condemnation under this law, about which there is doubt, let us see how they stand. One of the wine jurors for Great Britain at the Vienna exposition in 1873, speaking of them, says; "The testing of certain Californian wines showed that the Sonoma valley white variety was the one which contained the smallest amount of alcohol, indicating as it did under 15 per cent of proof spirit, while the red wine gave 17%. The so called California hock showed as much as 24%, the Angelica 27, the California produced wine enough to export in 1873 alone 1.097,742 gallons from that state(of which is from California. It is also the state of California produced wine enough to change of the the that "The whe wine, the domestic wine, bring on intoxication quicker?

The reason why one is allowed and the other not allowed, is plain. The foreigner can't vote. The "Gomestic" decorgian can.

A St. John-Danfel-Neat Dow political party can be built upon one; it cannot be upon the other, was there any other reason?

We differ upon questions of free trade and tariff, but I have yet to hear of a tariff man so rabid as to contend that foreign manufactures should be by law, in express terms, prohibited from importation, as is sought to be done by this law with foreign wines.

I will quote the law to show that they stand on the same, footing exactly.

tection 6 of the law under consideration provides that "o "it shall not be lawful for any person, within the limits of such county, to sell or batter for valuable consideration, either directly or Indirectly, or give away to induce trade at any place of business or furnish at other public places any sicoholic, spirituous, malt or intoxicating liquous or intoxicating hitters or other drinks, which if drank to excess will produce intoxication, under penaities named in that law. See S declares that "the set shall not be so construed as to prevent the manufacture, sale and use of domestic wines or cider a thal not be sold in barrooms, by retail, nor shall anything therein contained prevent licensed druggists from selling or furnishing PURE ALCORD. For medicinal, art, selentific and wines of cider shall not be sold in barrooms, by retail. For shall anything therein contained prevent licensed druggists from selling or furnishing FURE ALCOROL for medicinal, art. scientific and mechanical purposes." Fure alcohol, indeed: Suppose your child is sick and needs a light forcign wine, a claret, or some such. How is she to get it? Able bodied, strong, well men do not drink alcohol, much less children. It is no reply to say by smuggling it into Atlanta against the law. Is it wrong morally to sell whee not domestic to Georgia, or liquors in Atlanta? If it is right to use them it caunot be wrong to sell them to thus provide them for use in moderation. If it is wrong to use them in moderation it chinnot be right to provide them for use, by sale. Morally the sale and the use stand on the same footing. I suppose every fair mind will concede that. I shall therefore show that it is not morally wrong to use in moderation or to sell wines, foreign wines if you please. Every one will of course, condemn drunkenners. Even a drunk ard will do that. There is no excuse for it and it ought to be made a crime, punishable by law, no matter where committed, whether at home or at a hotel, or in the streets; whether disorderly or not. Do you go that far my unknown inquirer? But that is not what this law proposes to do. It does not propose to regulate the use, but to destroy if—prohibit it altogether. The question is whether it is morally wrong to use wines and liquors AT ALL—whether they shall be sold AT ALL in Atlanta. The question of regulating the sale of use is not now before the community. The question is one of total exclusion.

I perceive that this atticle is becoming too long and I will tomorrow consider the question from the standpoint of morality.

'THE OLD BOOK STORE" A Card to the Public!

MANY RESIDENTS AND BOOK BUYERS OF MAthants have only a feint conception of the magnitude of "The Old Book Store," supposing it to contain simply a mass of worn out books. We have classified many more books than the Young Mens' Library.—50 times as many as any private library in Atlanta—and more than all the other book houses here combined. We carry from the cheapest toy book to the old black letter works—have some sets costing as high as £100. Elegant holiday and gift books, sets of all the standard authors, gift books without number, new and elegant holiday books. Come and vigit us and see "The Wonder" in the city of wonders. Having as large a capital and experience as any house south, competition is impossible. Full line stationary kept: Circulars by mail free. Books bought as usual.

CATORING LAW BREAKERS.

Jim Bird Run in for Larceny-Elijah Har-deman's Trouble-Other Arrests. Special Officer Foute, at the Kimball house, is doing good work for the city as well as for his hotel.

Yesterday, Mr. Foute recovered the fine

Yesterday, Mr. Foute recovered the fine gold watch and diamond pln which were stolen from Dr. Huntley's residence Saturday night, and arrested the thief. Early in the morning a negro boy appeared about the hotel and tried to sell the watch. Dr. Foute dropped him quickly, and in ashort time run him in. The boy gave his name as James Bird. He is charged with larceny from the house. He denies being guilty of the their, and says that he bought the watch from a man, but cannot tell who that man is.

Cal Mulligan, charged with larceny from Cal Mulligan, charged with larceny from the person, was run in yesterday by Patrol-ruan Mercer.

Thirty days ago Elijah Hardeman had a fight with another negro. Hardeman was then given a trial in police court, and sent to the rock pile for thirty days, and asked to give a bond in the sum of one hundred dollars for assault. Yesterday Hardeman's thirty days expired and last night he was transferred from the rock pile to the city prison, where he will remain until the makes the bond or until the is transferred to the jail to await his smal trial.

Johnny's Piety.

Johnny's Piety.

From Texas Sifrengs.

Little Joenny Frizzletop got the idea into his head from attending Sunday school that he could get anything he wants by simply praying for it. A few evenings ago while engaged in his devotions he prayed for a baseball, a pony, a new suit of Sunday clothes, a shotgun, a quarter of a dollar and various other things which he neaded. While Johnny was thus praying, his brother Toommy burst into tears, and said in an agonized voice: voice:
Mamms please make Johnty stop; he is praying everything away from me."

SERMONS AND SAYINGS REV. SAM P. JONES.

To the Public, To the Public.

The publication of my "Sermons and Sayings" by a house in Chattanoogs, Tenn., and another in Richmond, Va., was unauthorized by me. These books contain only the imperfect reports of my sermons that appeared in the newspapers, many of which leave out the body of the sermon and give to the public only garbled and sensational paragraphs. They necessarily do me great minatice, and I hope they will be discontinued.

The volume of "Sermons and Sayings" issued by the Southern Methodist Publishing House is the only publication authorized by me.

London, February 12, 1853.

My Dear Sir: I owe you a thousand apologies for my neglect in not before acknowledging, in a direct way, your kindness and liberality in sending me such a beautiful supply of American Hams last Summer. I distributed a portion of them among my friends in England and Scotland, all of whom bear testimony of their superior quality, thinking them finer than Westphallias. We are still pounding away, beating the life out of high prices, and every time you hear our sledge hammer drop, you may know that another nail has been elinched in favor of our short profit plan.

There is no resting place for human feet. Onward and upward must be the watchword, and he who fails to make progress his motto, loses distance in the race for success. A will to do is the inspiration which leads to the full fruition of hope, while "luck" and "chance" is the wail of the sluggard by the way in life's

Determined never to be left in the rear, but to ever be first at the goal; we quote prices on some of the bargains to be had at our house:

Another lot of those beautiful all wool opera flannels, all color, sat 25c per yard. 75 cents for a superb six button kid glove in black and colors.

75 cents for a five hook kid glove in black and colors, of fine kid, and first class in quality. Three and a half cents for a fair quality of prints, and 5 cents for full

Standard goods. We have other prints at higher prices, but those at five cents are perfect in dye and finish, and give entire satisfaction.

Favoritism in business died long since and was buried on the very day when value was placed on the almighty dollar. It is human nature to want the most to be had for our money. We buy our goods at lowest prices and our large trade enables us to undersell any house in the south. Take a look at our stock, get our prices, and we will not fail to secure your patronage. We insist that you bring our advertisement with you and we will prove our statements over the counter.

Prices to suit the times and the needs of the people.

121/2 cents for a splendid Twilled Flannel in gray and brown-all wool filling and good weight. An excellent all-wool filling Waterproof, 54 inches wide, in desirable colors, at 35 cents per yard. 25 cents is our price on a nice 36-inch Cashmere in blacks, and a full line of the leading shades in colors. 4-4 Sea Island, good quality, at 5 and 6½ cents per yard:

4.4 Bleaching, best to be had in the market, at same prices. One lot of Ladies' and Gents' Handkerchiefs, in white and colored borders, both plain and hemstitched, being closed out at 10c each. These goods are worth from 15 to 30c, but are put out to be sold. They are all fresh and new and free from stain or soil. 25 cents will buy three pairs of Misses and Childrens' colored hose -nice goods for the price. 25 cents is all we ask for 3 pairs of Ladles' colored hose. We sell a beautiful quality of Ribbed hose for both ladies and children at 25c per pair.

You can buy a ladies' full regular made ingrain Stocking in black and full line of colors at 25c pair. All sizes Corsets, handsomely embroidered, at 25c. A big drive in Mens' White Shirts unlaundried at 35 and 50c each, in all sizes and well made.

D. H. Dougherty & Co. Within the last few days we have received a large shipment of handsome and stylish Wraps. We are doing an immense business in Cloaks this season and invite an inspection of that department. We have a beautiful line of Misses and Children's Newmarkets, with and without capes, and the fit is perfect. Prices to suit.

Think of a good 10-4 Blanket at $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50 per pair, Good Comforts at 65c.. 75c., $1.00 and $1.25 each. Then too we have the finest grade made in this line, at prices which will astonish you. We opened on Friday last the most elegant line of Dress and Cloak Trimmings ever shown in the market, including Black and Colored Chenille Fringe, Moss and Tufted Chenille, Passamenteries, Marabouts, and some novelties in Passamenteries and Ornaments. Good Turkey Red Damasks at 25, 35 and 50c. per yard. Excellent quality of half-bleached Table Linens at same prices. It will pay you to look if you wish anything in the way of Linens.

Pure and unadulterated All-Linen Towels at 71/2c. A genuine All-Linen 56-inch Bleached Damask at 40c.; 50c. for a 60-inch Bleached Damask, guaranteed all linen. We challenge the State in Table Linens, Doylies, Napkins and Towels.
